One Discipline, Infinite Impact: Redefining Commercial and Contracting Beyond Functional Silos

What if the greatest limit to contract success isn't the complexity of the deal- but the walls between our teams? WorldCC's recent Annual Report revealed that organisations prioritising integration across business units consistently achieve faster contracting cycles, higher stakeholder satisfaction, and greater value realisation. Let's begin our journey toward contract and commercial excellence by working together, not apart.

Tim Cummins, President, World Commerce & Contracting
Sally Guyer, Global CEO, World Commerce & Contracting

9:50-
10:40

Keynote panel: From Fragmented Functions to Integrated Commercial and Procurement Excellence

Who owns contracts? Finance? Legal? Commercial or procurement? Or are we all really part of one discipline? Hear real stories from the leaders who "get it." Understand where organisations most often stumble - communication gaps, turf battles, fragmented processes - and the ideas have sparked real transformation. This discussion highlights the big rewards of elevating the profession as one unified discipline, and how to transition.

Panellists:
 Samantha Randall, CFO, Accenture Australia
 Nathan Shepherd, General Counsel and Company Secretary, Experian ANZ
 Jean-Michel Carrier, Executive Director Finance and Procurement, City of Sydney
 Rachael Kuczma, First Assistant Secretary, Defence Commercial, Australian Department of Defence
 Moderator:
 Sally Guyer, Global CEO, World Commerce & Contracting

16:30-17:10	Panel: Unpacking the Benchmark Report – Navigating Uncertainty Through CCM Resilience The business landscape is demanding. Far from a ‘return to normal’, our latest research shows that 87% of organisations are dealing with high levels of uncertainty – and recognising that it represents a ‘new normal’. In terms of commercial and contracting capability, current conditions demand a fresh attitude to risk, adoption of innovative technologies and highly adaptive processes and skills. This panel explores commercial and contract management resilience through latest CCM Institute research findings and lays a roadmap for navigating uncertainty. Panelists: Speaker to be advised, Sirion Nicki Lau Young, Chief Commercial Offer, New Zealand Defence Force Tanya Song, General Manager, Customer Negotiation and Contracts, Telstra Nathan McGuire, Head of Commercial – Projects, BHP Moderator: Kraig Conrad, CEO, National Contract Management Association

17:10-17:40	In Conversation: Why Contracts Matter, and How to Get the CEO's Attention Our research shows that executives get it – 88% understand that commercial and contract management excellence matters, and they know they need to improve. But there's a massive gap between recognition and action. Hear from Ohad Katz on how to influence change at an executive level, and how to get commercial and contract management to the top of the CEO agenda. Ohad Katz, Managing Director, Raytheon Australia In conversation with: Sally Guyer, Global CEO, World Commerce & Contracting
17:40	Closing remarks
17:45-late	The Wind Down The conference is done for the day, but the conversations aren't. The Wind Down is your chance to relax, reconnect, and share a drink with colleagues, peers and the WorldCC team.

Day Two
Tuesday 11th August

7:30-8:45 WorldCC Foundation Breakfast: Spotlight on Sustainable Procurement
An opportunity to join us in person at the WorldCC Foundation Breakfast. Rod Winterton, Strategic Commercial Manager, Essential Energy
14:10-14:50	Panel: Building a High-Performing Contracting and Procurement Culture – Beyond Motivation Towards Meaning Motivational tactics rely heavily on external incentives but rarely sustain long term performance. Their impact quickly fades because they don’t address the deeper human need for purpose. Meaning, on the other hand, anchors people. It gives them a reason to show up, to push through challenges and to contribute at their best. This session explores how to help commercial and procurement teams find a sense of purpose in their work and harness it to create a high performing contracting culture. Charlie Hollis, Group Head of Contracts and Procurement, AGIG David Hurrell, Head of Procurement, Tourism Australia Rebecca Chung, Head of Commercial, Maritime Systems, BAE Systems Kate Sherburn, Head of Legal, Who Gives a Crap Moderator: Michael Alp, General Manager, New Zealand Government Procurement, Ministry of Business, Innovation & Employment
